

TOWNLEY KINGSTON

SOLICITORS

Welcome to the Spring/Summer Edition of Townley Kingston Solicitors Newsletter. In this edition you will find articles on topics which we hope will keep you informed of legal developments relevant to you.

In this issue we discuss the hot topic of the moment for many Irish businesses in these difficult and challenging times, namely debt recovery. We highlight the importance of making a valid will during a person's lifetime and also the relevance of a Notary Public to you as an individual but also to your business.

Articles Featured in this Issue:

DEBT RECOVERY

Court proceedings are not necessarily the best recovery strategy in every case. You may trust in a particular individual to address their debt in good faith in accordance with his or her ability to do so and you might therefore consider proceedings to be unnecessary. Further, you may feel that the level of a particular debt weighed against the cost....Read More>>

MAKING A WILL

"Where there's a will, there's a way..."

Indeed there is. A will, quite simply, gives you a way to have control over all your assets once you die. Where there is no will, there is no way. In other words, you have no control as to what happens to your assets once you die if you do not make a valid will in your lifetime....Read More>>

NOTARY PUBLIC

Notary Public

A Notary Public is an officer of the law who holds an internationally recognised public office. The duty and function of a Notary, as an impartial and legally trained witness, is to serve the public in non-contentious matters usually concerned with foreign or international business. A Notary is empowered to prepare, attestRead More>>
